Your discipline. Your passion. Our success, together.

About the Role

As Lecturer or Senior Lecturer in Clinical and/or Forensic Psychology, you will be required to make a contribution to the delivery of our BPS accredited programmes at both Undergraduate and Postgraduate level. We would particularly welcome candidates who are currently practicing as HCPC registered Clinical and/or Forensic Psychologists who can offer an applied practitioner focus to our teaching. We welcome applications from those interested in the full .4FTE role, or those who may prefer a job share on a .2FTE basis.

Where relevant, you will be given the opportunity to contribute to the research activities of the department and meet the requirements for submission to the next Research Excellence Framework exercise. A commitment to knowledge exchange is expected from our research-active staff.

About You

You will be an enthusiastic and friendly professional with excellent communication and interpersonal skills coupled with a commitment to providing an excellent student experience. Teaching experience on undergraduate psychology programmes is essential, and an established or promising research profile is desirable. A background in clinical and/or forensic psychology with supporting qualifications and experience is essential, with current registered practitioner status desirable.

To be successful you will further enrich our student's experience through your expertise and subject knowledge as evidenced through your qualifications and extensive experience of professional practice. In return, you will join a forward thinking and dynamic team that pushes the boundaries of curriculum development within our discipline.

Rewards & Benefits

We want you to feel happy when you come to work and proud when you go home.

From the moment you join us you have the opportunity to enhance your skills. We offer various routes for progression, a range of specialist development sessions and academic development opportunities along with an award winning and comprehensive staff health & wellbeing programme (HR Excellence Awards 2017). This means you will receive a full academic induction, be enrolled if appropriate on our PGCTHE, benefit from the Edge Hill University CPD scheme (UKPSF) and our annual University Learning and Teaching day all to support your professional development.

This is just a taste of what we are able to offer you at Edge Hill University.

About Us

“A great success story... an institution that improves and impresses year after year” – Times Higher Education.

We are recognised for our outstanding achievements in student satisfaction, staff engagement, graduate employment and innovation as well as our strengthening research profile, investment and growth. The Times Higher ‘University of the Year’ award also celebrated our distinct role in “transforming lives” – reflecting a distinctive philosophy of creating opportunity from excellence.

You’ll be working for a multi award-winning institution that has been named Modern University of the Year in the Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2022 and shortlisted for the overall UK University of the Year award. Edge Hill has also recently been awarded University of the Year in the Educate North Awards (2021) in recognition of our continued commitment to deliver an exceptional student experience and the exceptional progress we have made to deliver investment and innovation over the past 12 months, while placing students at the heart of everything we do.

The University has been judged Best UK Employer (European Business Awards 2016) and highly commended in Times Higher Education Leadership and Management Awards 2017 for Workplace of the Year.

Based on an award-winning campus in West Lancashire, Edge Hill University offers a stimulating and empowering environment for ambitious and high performing professionals.

For informal enquiries about this vacancy you may wish to contact: Prof Nick Hulbert-Williams, Head of the Department of Psychology at hulbertwn@edgehill.ac.uk.

As part of your application we expect (i) a full academic CV, and (ii) a covering letter detailing what fractional contract they would prefer and whether they can teach clinical psych, forensic psych or both. Please attach both to your online application.

Please note, DBS checks will be carried out at any point during your employment if your work requires this.

At Edge Hill University we value the benefits a rich and diverse workforce brings to our community and therefore welcome applications from all sections of society.
